

UHLB1032: Task Sheet for Review Essay

Objective:

Write a comprehensive review essay on a subject of your choice, such as a movie, book, restaurant, or product. Your essay should offer a well-rounded critique, focusing on key elements, strengths, weaknesses, and your personal perspective.

Task Outline

1. Choose Your Subject

Select one of the following options for your review:

- Movie: Analyse plot, acting, direction, cinematography, sound, and overall impact.
- Book: Focus on themes, characters, writing style, plot, and pacing.
- Restaurant: Review ambiance, menu variety, food quality, service, and pricing.
- Product: Critique design, functionality, usability, value for money, and reliability.

2. Research/Experience the Subject

Watch the movie, read the book, visit the restaurant, or use the product.

Take notes on your initial thoughts, impressions, and any specific details you observe.

3. Write the Outline (Consultation Week 10, Submission Week 11)

Your review should follow a structured format. Consider the following outline:

a. Introduction

- Briefly introduce the subject (movie/book/restaurant/product).
- Mention the title, creator/author/chef/company, and release date (if applicable).
- Provide some background/context (genre, intended audience, etc.).
- Thesis statement: highlight the items/features to be discussed'

b. Summary of the Subject

- Provide a brief summary without revealing too many spoilers (for movies/books).
- For restaurants/products, give a concise description of what it offers.

c. Analysis

- Break down the key elements:
 - Movie: Plot, characters, acting, direction, cinematography, music.
 - Book: Plot, characters, themes, writing style, pacing.
 - Restaurant: Ambiance, service, food quality, variety, pricing.
 - Product: Design, features, functionality, ease of use, value for money.

- Discuss strengths and weaknesses in each area.

d. Personal Response

- Offer your personal experience, thoughts, and feelings about the subject.
- Include specific examples that stood out to you, either positive or negative.

e. Comparison (Optional)

- Compare the subject with similar movies, books, restaurants, or products to provide context for your critique.

f. Conclusion

- Summarize your overall evaluation.
- Provide a final recommendation (whether or not to watch, read, visit, or buy).

4. Write the Review Essay (Consultation Week 11, Submission Week 12)

- Write your essay, following the structure above.
- Aim for 350–700 words.
- Ensure that your tone is balanced—fair, but critical where necessary.
- Use specific examples to back up your claims.

5. Proofread and Edit

- Revise your essay for clarity, coherence, and flow.
- Check for grammar, spelling, and punctuation errors.
